WARD'S

VEGETABLE HAIR OIL.

IN all ages of the world, a beautiful head of hair has been considered the greatest ornament ever bestowed by nature upon the human frame, and indispensably necessary to the perfection of personal beauty. It is a very general complaint of young persons, that their hair is falling off, becoming dry, or unhealthy; this may be owing to the application of improper and injurious oils, or to the entire neglect of the hair. Without proper attention, diseases of the hair will arise, which are often found to occasion thinness, falling off, and frequently total baldness. For these evils, and the necessary inconveniences attending them, Ward's Vegetable Hair Oil will be found in all cases a sure remedy. Before offering this Oil to the public it had been tried in hundreds of cases of baldness, thinness and falling off of the hair, and in every instance its salutary effects have been realized to admiration. It has never failed to produce a new and beautiful growth of hair on heads already bald, and to check that falling off which so often occurs. In cases where it becomes dry and ceases to grow, this Oil will very soon render it healthy, and produce a rapid and beautiful growth, without the least injury to the most delicate head; nor does any falling off follow after using it. That loss of hair, which so often takes place after sickness, may be easily prevented by using this celebrated Oil. In short no Oil has ever been offered to the public that gives such universal satisfaction, and stands the test of experience like Ward's Vegetable Hair Oil.

That the public may rest assured of the salutary effects of this Oil, the following testimonials, from gentlemen of high respectability, are most respectfully submitted:—

Extract of a letter from John A. Wadsworth, M. D., of the city of Providence, R. I. to W. & L. Krumbhaar & Co., of Philadelphia.

Gentlemen: Dr. Ward's Vegetable Hair Oil has gained great repute with us, having restored Hair on heads that have been bald for years, and I have no doubt it will give satisfaction wherever it may be introduced.

Very respectfully,
JOHN A. WADSWORTH.

Messrs. STANLEY & Co., of Baltimore, in writing to Mr. HUNTON, Druggist, in Washington City, say, 'That Letters to them from Druggists in Boston, describe Ward's Hair Oil as being highly approved of there, and selling with astonishing rapidity.

Extract of a letter from Harvey Seymour, Druggist, Hartford, Ct., to the Proprietor, dated Hartford, Sept. 14, 1832.

Dear Sir: I find your Hair Oil a valuable article; I was so unfortunate as to lose the Hair from the top of my head, and, from the use of about half a bottle, I find it starting out anew.

HARVEY SEYMOUR.

NEW YORK, Feb. 27, 1832.

Dr. WARD—Dear Sir: Your Hair Oil, you were good enough to put into my hands when I was in Lowell, has produced the most wonderful effects on my Hair that I ever witnessed. You recollect when I called on you, my Hair had fallen very much, and I was quite bald; I have now a beautiful head of Hair, coming on very rapidly. I hardly know how to express my gratitude to you for the benefit the Oil has afforded me. A number of my friends are very anxious to obtain some of the Oil, and I wish you to send me one dozen bottles of the largest size immediately.

Yours, respectfully,
C. WOOD, M. D.

Extract of a letter from Dr. John A. Wadsworth, of Providence, to the Proprietor.

Esteemed Friend: Your Hair Oil is attended with very promising effects. One of our most respectable citizens, who had been bald for ten years, with a skin as smooth and free from hair as the palm of his hand, has been using the Oil, and fine hair is now coming out on every part of the previously bald scalp.

Yours, respectfully,
JOHN A. WADSWORTH.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1, 1832.

I certify that about fifteen years ago, my hair began to fall off, and in a few years became so thin that I found it a source of great inconvenience. On seeing Ward's Vegetable Hair Oil advertised in several New York papers, and highly recommended by two medical gentlemen, with whom I was acquainted, I was induced to make trial of it. When I commenced the use of it, I very much doubted its efficacy in my case, having been bald so many years. But I had not tried it long, before I found it to possess the properties which had been attributed to it. I have now as good and healthy a head of hair as I had twenty five years ago. I can cheerfully recommend it to others who have had the misfortune to lose their hair.

G. W. CUNNINGHAM.

BOSTON, Nov 3, 1832.

Dr. WARD—Sir: A friend of mine had a bottle of your Hair Oil put into his hand, and using it a short time, the hair began to grow on his head, which was before bald, and he had tried many other remedies in vain.

Yours, respectfully,
C. E. ALLEN.

The Board will meet three times in every week, and oftener, should the cholera or any emergency require it. July 12, 1833—1m

DAILY PITTSBURGH GAZETTE.

MONDAY AFTERNOON, AUGUST 12, 1833.

Cholera in Cincinnati.—The Cincinnati Gazette gives, as the whole number of deaths in that city, from the 23d to the 30th, one hundred and twelve—Of these, fifty one were by Cholera. It adds, "the proportionate of Cholera a little diminished."—It is now just nine weeks since the first native case of Cholera occurred in this city, and in those nine weeks the whole number of deaths by Cholera was fifty two, being just one more than occurred in a single week in Cincinnati, at a time when the disease "had a little diminished."

Braddock and Washington.—We publish, to day, an extract from the correspondence of Walpole, in relation to those two persons, which will probably interest our readers. Their names are both intimately associated with the early history of this part of the country. It was the fortune of the one to close his life, and of the other to commence his brilliant and matchless career in this neighborhood. This note of Walpole's is dated October 4th, 1754—the capture of Washington, referred to by him, took place on the 4th of July previous, at Fort Necessity, and in July following Braddock was buried within a mile of this same Fort Necessity.

This note, of Walpole, concurs with all previous accounts in representing Braddock to be a fearless and brutal ruffian. His remark about his sister's death we have seen before, but never upon any certain authority.

We greatly doubt the truth of the statement as to Washington's gasconading language. We have never seen the letter referred to, and would gladly persuade ourselves that there is some mistake. It is, to be sure, not a serious matter—Washington was, in 1754, only twenty two or three years old, and a little boasting in any other person, at that age, might be expected, in Washington, even at twenty three, it would be out of character. His journal of his expedition to this place and French Creek, a few months before, is one of the most modest and sensible productions we have ever read.—Whether Washington did or did not, upon one occasion, use the language attributed to him, it is very certain that the title of "fanfaron," or boaster, was never more misapplied.

The Harmonious Party.—The editor of the Mercury still insists, most strenuously, that the utmost harmony prevails in the ranks of the old Jackson party, in this State.—If we had no other reason to doubt the truth of his statement, the vociferous and pertinacious manner in which he proclaims it, would excite doubt and suspicion.

Unfortunately, however, for his reputation for truth, it is perfectly notorious that the party is rent in twain. Indeed, so notorious is this fact that, probably there is, among all the readers of the Mercury, not one person who does not exclaim to himself, when he comes across these weekly assertions—"Why does Snowden make such assertions as these, every person knows that they are utterly destitute of truth? He has no character for veracity to spare, why then does he waste it, as if his fund was inexhaustible?"

The reply to these questions is obvious enough. Mr. Snowden hopes to prevent an open and avowed arrangement of the sections of the party, against each other, until after the election. The hope is, however, utterly vain. There is too much bitterness, too much animosity between them to be smothered so long. This animosity is showing itself upon all occasions. In our last paper, we published a letter from Mr. Benjamin Evens, upon the subject of his dismissal from the office of the Auditor General, at Harrisburgh. If his statement is entitled to any credit, (and we are sure the editor of the Mercury will not discredit it,) Mr. Evens was dismissed, not from any want of capacity or integrity, but purely because he was a friend of Van Buren. Now, we ask the editor of the Mercury, does this prove that the utmost harmony prevails in the Jackson ranks?

We subjoin an extract from the Lancaster Journal, a Jackson, anti Wolf paper, to show the kindly feelings which the editor of that paper entertains for George Wolf and Samuel M'Kean. The assertion that Mr. Ingham was forced upon General Jackson, and that his appointment brought "disgrace and disaster upon the country," is worthy of notice.

"We take the liberty of informing the Ingham Sentinel, of Philadelphia, that we shall allude to the conduct of the eleven members of Congress, though Governor Wolf be one of them, and the Sentinel's very particular friend, General M'Kean, another, who brought disgrace and disaster upon the party and the country, by FORCING Mr. Ingham into Gen. Jackson's cabinet, as often as it suits our views and purposes."

Pittsburgh Internal Improvement Society.

For some time past, regret has been felt that the rapid development of new sources of business and prosperity to Pittsburgh, should be accompanied by a seeming want of attention and alertness on her own part, in watching and turning to account all the advantages of an unrivaled position. It has hence happened, that inquiries and suggestions, on many points of deep and general interest, have been left to anonymous and unheeded speculation in the newspapers; and the appropriate season for action been suffered to pass away. The Society, designated above, has been projected with a view to remedy, if possible, this state of things. Its leading object will be to secure a concert of opinion and of action: to provide a fixed and known medium of Correspondence with the surrounding Districts, through which may be conveyed early and accurate information, as well as an inspiriting assurance of interest and co-operation in whatever relates to the common welfare: to select from amongst the many projects which are thrown, with equal confidence, before the public eye, such as appear, on careful examination, worthy of being urged and likely to be successful: to secure the attendance of competent and zealous Delegates, at points where union of counsels and exertions with others may be necessary; and to take measures for calling our citizens together, whenever an object of sufficient magnitude may warrant and demand the authority and impetus of a general movement.

It is believed that such a society might speedily become the repository of full and accurate surveys of exact statistical information—and of all the data entering into the most detailed estimates. The Legislature could then be approached with confidence; and there will be a readiness for decisive action the moment a favorable hearing is secured.

The Subscribers hereby agree to become members of this Society, and to be governed by such regulations as may be hereafter duly adopted.

NOTICE.

A Meeting of the citizens of Pittsburgh, who have signed the above, or who approve the object in view, will be held on Saturday evening, 17th inst., at 7 o'clock, at the Shakspeare House, in 4th street, between Market and Wood streets.

From the National Gazette.

The name of Washington occurs in a singular paragraph, found in Walpole's correspondence, lately published in England.

"Oct. 4, 1754. The French have tied up the hands of an excellent fanfaron, a Major Washington, whom they took and engaged not to serve for a year. In his (Washington's) letter, he says, 'believe me, as the cannon balls flew over my head, they made a most delightful sound.' There is a very pretty story of General Braddock, one of the first of our heroes in the American war.

"The Duke, who is now the soul of the regency, and who on all hands is allowed to make a great figure there, is much dissatisfied at the slowness of Gen. Braddock, who does not march as if he was at all impatient to be scalped. I love to give you an idea of our characters as they rise on the page of history.—Braddock is a very Iroquois in disposition. He had a sister, who having gamed away all her little fortune at Bath, hanged herself with a truly English deliberation; leaving only a note upon the table with these lines, 'To die is landing on some silent shore,' &c. &c.—When Braddock was told of it, he only said, 'poor Fanny! I always thought she would play till she was forced to tuck herself up.' But a more ridiculous story of him, and which is recorded in heroics by Fielding in his Covent Garden Tragedy, was an amorous discussion he had formerly with Mrs. Upton. He had gone the greatest lengths with her pin money, and was still craving. One day that he was very pressing, she pulled out her purse and showed him that she had but twelve or fourteen shillings left; he twitched it from her. 'Let me see that.' Tied at the other end he found five guineas; he took them and tossed the empty purse in her face, saying, 'did you mean to cheat me?' and never went near her more. Now you are acquainted with General Braddock.

"I have already given you some account of Braddock; I may complete the poor man's history in a few words; he once had a duel with C. A. Grumby, Lady Bath's brother, who had been his great friend—as they were going to engage, Grumby, who had good humor and wit, (Braddock had the latter,) said, 'Braddock, you are a poor dog! here, take my purse; if you kill me you will be forced to run away, and then you will not have a shilling to support yourself.' Braddock refused the purse, insisted on the duel, was disarmed, and would not even ask his life."

KENTUCKY ELECTIONS.

Mason County.—Messrs. Winslow Parker, and James Byers are certainly elected to the Legislature. The contest for the third representative is between Mr. David Morris and Mr. William G. Bullock, and it was uncertain, when this paper went to press, which of the two was elected.

Thomas A. Marshall, it is generally believed, is re-elected, to Congress, by a majority of 3 or 400 votes over Judge Beaty. In Bourbon, at the close of the second day, Mr. Marshall was 520 ahead. In Bracken, 1st day, 47 ahead—In Nicholas, 1st day, 30 ahead—In Pendleton, 1st day, at Falmouth, 10 ahead. In Mason, at the close of the polls, Judge Beatty's majority is supposed to be about 150.—Mays. Eagle.

We learn that Mr. Letcher was about 60 votes ahead of Mr. Moore for Congress, in Nicholasville, and that the precinct vote would increase Mr. L's majority. Dr. Mitchell was about 170 votes ahead of Mr. Woodson, at Nicholasville, for the Legislature.

In Scott county, Col. Johnson was running far ahead of Mr. Gaines for Congress.

No return from any other counties.

LATE FOREIGN INTELLIGENCE.

Latest from Spain via Havana.—By the brig Eagle, Capt. Hammatt, which arrived at this port yesterday from Havana, we have received a file of the Diario de la Habana, to the 20th of July. The Spanish brig Correo de la Habana, No. 2, had arrived in the short passage of 29 days from Cadiz, having touched at the Canaries and Porto Rico, bringing accounts from Madrid to the 11th, and from Cadiz to the 18th June, which, we believe, is several days later than intelligence from that quarter by the way of England. The extracts in the Havana papers are unimportant. The Diario says:—"On our peninsula every thing is perfectly quiet. Health and tranquillity prevail throughout the nation. We are surprised at the accounts of the rapid strides made in the progress of education, the arts, agriculture, industry, commerce, navigation, &c. the laying out of roads, establishing mail routs, and communication by steam navigation, with which the papers which we have seen are filled. Unhappy Portugal continues to be the victim of pestilence, and war, although, thank Heaven, the ravages of the former have considerably abated in the capital and suburbs."—Bost. Gaz.

From St. Michaels.—Captain Howland, of the brig Betsey and Jane, arrived at the port of New Bedford, informs, that a schooner arrived at that place on the 24th June, in four days from Oporto, having on board a number of soldiers of Don Pedro's army, who had been wounded in an engagement. Don Pedro had received a reinforcement of troops from England and France, and 5,000 troops had embarked in steam vessels at Oporto, whose destination had not been made known. At St. Michaels the most sanguine expectation of the success of the cause of Don Pedro prevailed.—Three thousand of Don Miguel's troops were at Maderia.—Poulson.

The following notice of the designs of Russia, is from a late letter of O. P. Q. to the editor of the London Morning Chronicle:

"I have said enough to show you that the affairs of the East are not yet terminated—that Russia does not intend to withdraw her fleet or her army—that she has ulterior designs—that she is conspiring to take possession of European Turkey for herself—that there is no sort of real and true alliance between the Courts of St. Petersburg, London, and Paris—that all is mere patchwork, to last for the time being—that Russia has not abandoned, even if she has adjourned, her long projected plan—that nothing short of a war against Russia can really save the Turkish empire from destruction—that all milk and water, tepid measures, will be of no use—that France and England cannot maintain the ascendancy of constitutional principles in Europe, and yet yield to Russian influence and Russian diplomacy—that if England and France will not attack the Czar, he will ere long attack them, and that both the governments and the people of France and Great Britain should at length open their eyes to the real question, and should be made to understand and feel that Russian influence must be curbed, and Russian usurpation must be defeated."

In adverting to Cobbett's recent conduct in the House of Commons, the London Morning Chronicle says—"The fact is, that Mr. Cobbett has committed a capital blunder. He should have kept out of Parliament, and has entered it too late. As an orator, he gives the system an occasional blow in a soft place; but the reformed House of Commons is not his proper theatre, and what the country gains by his speeches it loses in the Register.—Moreover, Marplot never yet succeeded in the long run. He ought to have taken a lesson from the fate of Mr. Hunt, who, with all his cunning, was instantly seen through, when he began to fight the battle of the Tories under radical colors."

The Expedition of the Niger.—Letters have arrived in Town, containing the following interesting information relative to the expedition for exploring the Niger:—Lander writes in great spirits from the river Nun, of the date Oct 26, 1832, that the expedition had arrived there in good health, and that the steamers had proved admirable sea boats, the iron one (the Alburka) in particular; so much so, that himself and Lieut. Allan, R. N. had removed from the larger vessel (the Quovia) to her. The captain of a Liverpool vessel had taken up Lander's bond that he had given King Boy for his own and his brother's redemption from the tribe that took them prisoners on the voyage down the Niger Lander, at the date of these letters had sailed (or steamed) up the river Nun with King Boy in his train; probably the first instance of a King being his own ambassador to a neighboring state.—Lond. Examiner.

The Temperance Societies of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, notwithstanding their recent origin, have been so successful that the Governor, in his recent message, attributes in part the declension of the Colonial revenue, to the diminished consumption of ardent spirits. The same effect has been produced, we believe, by like causes, in Great Britain and Ireland.—We find documents quoted in the last report of the Pennsylvania State Temperance Society, by which it appears that a great decline has taken place in the consumption and manufacture of ardent spirits. The diminution of consumption in the United Kingdom, during the year ending the 5th January last, was nearly a million of gallons, from the preceding year. The diminution of spirits manufactured in Ireland in 1830, amounted to 210,903 gallons, and in the half of 1831, there was a decrease in the demand amounting to 721,564 gallons. In Scotland, during the same period, the consumption had lessened 513,697 gallons. These are encouraging tokens, from abroad, of the growth of human improvement, and we are happy to know that they are equalled by the spread of Temperance knowledge and practice at home. One of the traits by which the present age will be distinguished as remarkable in human history, is the commencement of this universal reform in morals and intellect, and a general warfare against a debasing and ruinous vice.—*Balt. A Powerful Organ.—In Birmingham, England, there is an organ, of which an English paper says the case will be 40 feet wide, and 45 feet high.—The largest metal diapason pipe is to be 5 feet 3 inches in circumference, and 35 feet in height. The largest wood diapason pipe will measure in the interior upwards of 200 cubic feet. In the full organ are to be ten open diapasons, and all the other parts must be calculated in proportion to this. There will be sixty draw stops and five sets of keys. The superficial measure of the bellows will exceed 380 feet. The weight of the instrument will be more than forty tons.—Poulson.

Mad River and Lake Erie Rail Road Company—The commissioners named in the act incorporating this company met at Springfield, Clark co. O. on the 31st ult. The engineers report, that the road can be constructed so as to use locomotive engines at $10,700 per mile, or $12,700, if constructed to have the cars drawn by horses. Gen. Vance, H. G. Philips, and Judge Mills, were appointed a committee to open books for the subscription of stock in the Eastern cities. The contemplated rail road is to run from Dayton to Sandusky City.—O. Repository.

In a speech, delivered on the 4th of July, Mr. Everett touches the great question of the preservation of our Union, and adds some sentiments which we deem it well to copy.

"In speaking, however, of the preservation of the Union, as the great and prevailing principle in our political system, I would not have it understood, that I suppose this portion of the country to be more interested in it, than any other. The intimation, which is sometimes made, and the belief, which, in some quarters, is avowed, that the Northern States have a peculiar and a selfish interest in the preservation of the Union;—that they derive advantages from it, at the uncompensated expense of other portions; I take to be one of the grossest delusions ever propagated by men, deceived themselves, or willing to deceive others.—I know, indeed, that the dissolution of the Union would be the source of incalculable injury to every part of it; as it would, in great likelihood, lead to border and civil war, and eventually to despotism. But not to us would the bitter chalice be first presented. This portion of the Union—erroneously supposed to have a peculiar interest in its preservation—would be sure to suffer, no doubt, but it would also be among the last to suffer, from that deplorable event; while that portion, which is constantly shaking over us the menace of separation, would be swept with the besom of destruction, from that moment an offended Providence should permit that purpose to meet its ill starred maturity."

A new mineral has recently been discovered in the island of Corsica. It contains particles of gold, and some vases that were made of it, from the brilliancy of their polish, and the beauty of their colors resemble enamel.

Newspapers.—I never derive more henfit or see more pleasure for the time, says Dr. Johnson, than reading a newspaper which has lately been issued from the press. I do really believe that nothing adds so much to the glory of any country as newspapers.—Liberty is stamped legibly upon its pages and even the fold is marked with freedom. Do you want to know how your country thrives, I point you to the press! There you shall find a piece, perhaps under the head of Legislative? Are you fond of miscellany, look there? What books can furnish such good accounts of murder, robbery, accidents, marriages, anecdotes, and many other such things. Such good, as well as bad accounts from the Russians, Turks, Dutch, &c. Under all these considerations, who is there in this land of freedom, that will not attend to an object so worthy of his regard.

Connecticut.—By a report of the Comptroller of Connecticut, recently published, it appears that the amount of the expenditures of the State, during the year ending on the 30th of March last, was $71,626 68, of which the following are among the items: debentures and contingent expenses of the General Assembly, $15,923 91; salaries, $9,034 00; judicial expenses, $21,844 91; support of State paupers, $2,000 00; and for public buildings and institutions, $10,774 58. The receipts into the treasury during the same period, amounted to $80,302 00, of which $25,271 36 were derived from dividends on bank stock, $2,817 88 from the tax of two thirds of one per cent. on bank and insurance stock, owned by non residents, $5,000 from the State Prison, and $4,290 08 from licenses and duties on sales at auction. The balance in the treasury was $19,516 60; on the 1st of April, 1832, it was $10,838 35.

The public debt amounts to $1,681 38, and the permanent funds of the State to $399,700, of which $48,200 consists of purchased and transferable bank stock, and $351,500 of the subscriptions to the stock of several banks.

The Hartford Times contains a statement, derived from official sources, of the various subjects of taxation, together with their estimated value, in 1832. There were 42,852 dwelling houses, valued at $21,948,740 00, or, on the average, at about $500 each; 2,622,676 acres of land, valued at $50,782,455 00, or, on the average, about $19 per acre; 1,572 mills, valued at $843,511 00; 1,826 stores, at $146,748; 283 distilleries, at $54,052; 1,521 mannfactories, of what descriptions is not stated, at $1,637,149; 183 fisheries, at $98,625; 34,250 horses, at $1,290,694 00, or about $37 each; 237,989 neat cattle, at $3,347,667; 271,625 sheep, valued at $333,657 00; 22,893 clocks and watches, valued at $174,843 00. The value of silver plate is estimated at $10,614 00; of stock in the State banks, $3,143,736 00; in the bank of the United States, $17,880 00. The amount of insurance stock was $53,642 00, and of money at interest, $2,087,976 00. The aggregate amount of the taxable property of the State, was $88,592,388 00. According to the last census, the population was 297,711.

Newspapers.—What startles the tyrant from his dreams of power and rouses the slumbering genius of an oppressed people? What heaves the thrones and crumbles the diadems of Europe? What piles to the clouds the majestic columns of our national glory, and shields us with the ægis of heaven, our dearest republican institutions from the approaches of corruption? It is the Press—the thunder speaking PRESS! In our government, the rapid increase of newspapers within the last 20 years, augurs well for the intelligence, knowledge, and liberality of freemen. In 1820, 359 newspapers were printed in the United States—in 1826, there were 640—in 1830, there were 1,000—and at this time their number probably falls not much short of 1,500; which is a larger number than is printed in all Europe, with its population of 100,000,000. This great disparity is owing to the perfect Liberty of the Press in this country. The cheapness of American newspapers places them within the reach of the humblest citizen in our republic, and that man who does not patronize the press in this country has indeed "No music in his soul." And it may be said of the family that does not welcome one of those winged couriers of intelligence within its precincts, that "Shadows, clouds, and darkness rest upon them."

Paterson (N. J.) August 7, 1833.—In consequence of the high price of Cotton, some of the Manufacturers of this Town have stopped their works. It is hoped that the new crop of Cotton, which, from the best information we can gather will be abundant, will be sold at prices which will cause the spindle to run and our industrious population to assume their usual animation and cheerfulness. We have been informed that many of the Mills in the neighborhood of Philadelphia have also ceased operation.—Poulson.

We regret to state, that the son of a highly respectable gentleman of this city, expired on Wednesday, near Frankfort, from that horrible malady, hydrophobia. He was bitten by a dog, not known at the time to be mad, about nine weeks ago; and a few days since, the effects of the wound began to appear.—Every remedy used was unavailing; and the unhappy lad deceased with all the painful symptoms of one of the most afflicting diseases to which humanity is subject. We have not learned whether the huaco,—a plant which is said to be effectual in mastering the subtle poison conveyed in the bite of a mad dog,—was made use of or not. It is presumable, however, that nothing was neglected which could be calculated to relieve the sufferer.—Phil. Gaz.

It is currently reported through city (says the Philadelphia Gazette,) that the mission of Amos Kendall to the Philadelphia Banks, in reference to the Government deposits, has been altogether unsuccessful. With a solitary exception, it is said, all the Banks have refused the deposits on any terms.—American Sentinel, Aug. 7.

Height of different Giants.—Byrne, the Irish giant, who lately died in London, measured eight feet two inches.

Cornelius Hagarth, who died in the year 1760, measured seven feet eight inches.

Edward Malone, an Irishman, was seven feet seven inches, and was nearly equal in stature and size to Daniel Cardanus, the Swedish giant.

The celebrated Dr. Chelselden, the famous anatomist, speaks of a skeleton discovered in a Roman camp, near St. Alban's, and near to an urn inscribed Marcus Antonius, which he judged to have been eight feet four inches.

Goliath, of Gath, the champion of the Philistines, who was slain by David, measured six cubits and a span, which, according to Bishop Cumberland, is eleven feet English.

Maximus, the Emperor, was nine feet high, and in the reign of Augustus, there were said to be many others as tall.

DIED,

On the second inst., Mr. GEORGE B. KEEN, of this city, aged 21 years, after a long and painful illness, which he bore with uncommon fortitude. Mr. Keen possessed many virtues, in a high degree, particularly those that relate to his fellow men—as a son he was dutiful—as a brother, affectionate—as a friend, warm and sincere. The lamentations of those who stood in these relations, fully demonstrate their great bereavement. Society has lost an exemplary member, and one that promised, at a more mature age, to be an ornament to it.

On the morning of the 10th inst., Mrs. SARAH WYLIE, wife of Stephen Wylie, of Pitt township, aged 41 years.

Western Collegiate Institute,
FOR YOUNG LADIES,
NEAR PITTSBURGH,

UNDER the superintendence of WILLIAM B. LACEY, D. D., with arrangements of increased efficiency, will commence it Autumnal Session, on the First Monday in September next.

In the Senior department, Dr. Lacey, with competent Assistants, will hear recitations in Mathematics, Natural Philosophy, Astronomy, Chemistry, Mental and Moral Philosophy, Logic, Elements of Criticism, in reference to Language and the Fine Arts, Elocution, Natural Theology, Evidences of Christianity, and Sacred History.

In the Junior Department, Mr. Bryan B. Killikelly, late Vice Principal of a Collegiate School, in the city of New York, will give instructions in Orthography, Reading, Writing, Arithmetic, Grammar, Geography, Botany, Geology, Ancient and Modern History, Rhetoric, and the Latin and Greek languages.

In the Ornamental department, Mrs. Lacey, assisted by accomplished instructors, will give lessons in the French, and Italian languages, Vocal and Instrumental Music, Drawing, and Painting, in the style of several of the European, and Oriental Schools, Calisthenics, and the forms and elegancies of polished life.

The price for Board, General Superintendance, Fuel, Candlelight, Pew Rent, access to an extensive Library, instructions in Calesthenics, Orthography, Reading, Writing, Rudiments of Geography, and Arithmetic, and all the varieties of Needle Work, will be $30 per term. To this charge will be added, for instruction in any or in all of the higher branches taught in the Junior department, (except the Latin and Greek languages) $6; or instead thereof, in any or in all the branches of the Senior department, $8; French and Italian, each $8; Music, including the use of the instruments for practice, $13; Drawing, and Painting, $6; Bronzing and Painting, in the Oriental styles, $20. Or, if Parents prefer a more definite arrangement, Dr. Lacey will Board, and Instruct, in any, or in all the branches taught in the Institute, for $200, per annum, per scholar, they paying the amount in advance.

The Principal intends to establish, in the vicinity, and under his own general Superintendance, a school for small boys, where, with his own sons, they will be fitted for entrance into any college in the United States. The charge for board and tuition, in any or in all the branches of a finished English education will be $120 per annum, and for other branches proportionally moderate.

No scholar will be received for a less time than one term; and all bills must be paid one quarter in advance.

Each pupil is required to bring a Bible, Bed, and Bedding, Towels; Table spoon, Tea spoon, Knife and Fork.

Pupils will be permitted to attend any place of public worship their Parents may designate.

The Institute having been in operation four terms, and sustained two public examinations, Dr. Lacey submits, with particular satisfaction, the following spontaneous testimonial of its character, and results from Parents and friends of pupils in the Institute.

Pittsburgh, August 3, 1833.

TO THE REV. W. B. LACEY, D. D.—

Dear Sir—We have been so amply gratified by the late examination of your Female Collegiate Institute, that we feel it equally a pleasure and a duty to express our satisfaction, and to wish you such success in your enterprise as may remunerate you for your large expenditure, and, in some measure, compensate you for the unwearied application of your talents and learning to the cause of Education.

The examination was conducted with such minute and critical severity as served to test, to the utmost, the understanding of the pupils, and the extent of their acquisitions in their varied and interesting studies.

When it is taken into consideration that the number of pupils did not exceed fifty, and that three days were spent, almost without relaxation, in ascertaining their mental and moral improvement, the results must be considered as peculiarly gratifying to their parents and friends, and as reflecting the highest credit upon the Principal of the Institute and those to whom their instruction has been committed.

The examination embraced, in its range, the elementary, as well as the higher branches of elocution, Grammar, Geography, Arithmetic, Rhetoric, the elements of Moral Philosophy, Chemistry, Botany, Astronomy, Algebra, French, Music, and Calesthenic exercises.

In the whole course, whether in those matters that belong to the useful and essential branches, or those that may be termed the accomplishments and refinements of Education, care, attention, and talent, on the part of the instructors, and devotion and industry on the part of the pupils, were obvious. Peculiar interest was excited by the classes that had devoted their attention to Elocution and Rhetoric, by the highest class in French, whose translations from D'Agguessau, Racine, & L'Henriade, were subjects of just commendation; and by the young Ladies who had devoted their attention to Moral Philosophy, whose application of its principles to the Science of Government, and thorough knowledge of the Constitution of the United States, created feelings of mingled surprize and admiration in the bosoms of us all.

The class in Algebra, under the particular charge of Professor Aikin, evinced a knowledge of that most difficult branch of Mathematics, and also of Chemistry and Botany, entitling him and them to high approbation.

The Musical exhibition was extremely satisfactory, as evincing the capability of Mr. Rupp, the Musical Professor, in that delightful accomplishment, and the rapid improvement of his pupils.

Without entering further into detail, sir, we express our entire satisfaction with the result of your system, and cannot forbear expressing a wish that the citizens of our wealthy, manufacturing metropolis, and our fellow citizens throughout the western states, who wish to afford to their daughters the benefits of a refined, accomplished, and useful education, at about one third of the expense that such an education would cost them in eastern cities, will confer their patronage upon your Institution. In addition to all the advantages as regards the improvement of mind and manners which an eastern Institution can afford, the location of your Institution, surrounded by scenes of picturesque beauty, with its groves, orchards, and gardens, its springs of pure water, and in the midst of a country which may be emphatically denominated the residence of health, would, of itself, operate as a strong inducement to parents who are disposed to send their children abroad for education to intrust them to your care.

I have been acquainted with the Institute from its commencement. Its pupils have been unusually healthy; indeed, the situation is one of the most salubrious which I know. At the time of the late examination, in a family of upwards of seventy persons, including the pupils, there was not one who was the subject of medical treatment.

PROSPECT HILL
Literary & Scientific Institution.
PITTSBURGH, Pa.

ON the 1st of July, Mr. DANIEL STONE intends opening, near the City of Pittsburgh, an Institution for the instruction of boys. Its plan is to combine, as far as possible, the peculiar advantages of a domestic and public education.—The pupils, with the principal and assistants, will constitute one family, and be at all times under careful supervision. The Discipline will be mild, but strict, such as a father, solicitous for the welfare of his children, would exercise over them. It is believed that an appeal to reason, and the sense of honor and duty, will generally secure obedience. Coercive measures will, therefore, be adopted only in extreme cases.

The Course of Study will embrace the English, Latin, Greek, and French Languages; Arithmetic, Algebra, and Geometry; Geography and History—Ancient and Modern; Rhetoric, Composition, and Elocution; Natural Philosophy and Chemistry; Penmanship, Orthography, and Reading. Frequent examinations will be held, open to the friends and relations of the youths.

The Mode of Instruction will be thorough and critical, and no subject will be relinquished until fully understood. That the scholar's mind may become vigorous, active, and self-confident—prepared for the stern conflicts of life, and a fearless discharge of its duties, he will be encouraged to reason and decide for himself.

Each student will be required to attend such church as his parent or guardian shall designate.

To preserve health and elasticity of spirits, to check indolence, and promote industry among the students, they will be daily exercised in athletic sports.

Pupils will be admitted between the ages of Six and Sixteen. None can be received for less than one term.

The uniform Dress will consist of a cap, blue roundabout, with metal buttons, and blue pantaloons. Every article of clothing should be marked with the owner's name in full.

The Terms are two hundred dollars a year, payable quarterly in advance. This includes Tuition, Board, Lodging, Washing, Mending, Light, and Fuel.

The Vacations, after the present year, will be three—the 1st, of two weeks, from the 3d Wednesday in April; the 2d, of four weeks, from the 2d Wednesday in August; and one week at Christmas.

The Matron's department will be under the care of Mrs. Reynolds, of this city.

DOCTOR ROBERT'S
☞WELCH MEDICAMENTUM☜

FOR the cure of Dyspepsia, Liver Complaints, Jaundice, Cholic, Fever and Ague, Dysentery, Headach, Loss of Appetite, Flatulence, Hypochondria, Hysterics, Dropsical Complaints, and Heartburn, It also prevents all Bilious disorders, and removes habitual Costiveness, Asthma, Strangury, Gravel, Rheumatism, Gout, and Impurities of the Blood.

A person who uses this Medicamentum will not require the use of the lancet, or any means of the healing art. It restores and revives the animal spirits, invigorates the system, removes nervous tremors, obtunds rheumatic and anthritic pains, and prevents their return. It cleanses the stomach of all morbid humors, which cause indigestion, acidities, headach, and lowness of spirits; cures all bilious disorders, and all cholics of the stomach and bowels, almost immediately; inspires cheerfulness; gives comfort to the dropsical; takes away palpitation of the heart; gives circulation to the blood; restores bloom to the sallow or sickly cheek, and plumpness to the meagre habit; purges without pain, and banishes all cause of fever of every kind. It acts on the stomach, that great reservoir of the human system, a diseased state of which causes all diseases. No alteration in the usual habits of life is required, but the abstaining from distilled ardent spirits.

CERTIFICATE,
From Rev. Derick Lansing, D. D., Pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church in Utica.

UTICA, Jan. 6, 1830.

To Dr. Hitchcock.—Dear Sir: I have always been one of the number of those who have placed little confidence in nostrums or specifics, and for this reason, although I saw your advertisement of the Welch Medicamentum, I could not bring my mind to consent to use it. My sufferings, from indigestion, during the past summer, were so severe, as materially to affect my comfort, and my capacity for usefulness. I have reason to thank you, sir, that, on hearing of the state of my health, you kindly sent me your Medicamentum. I have taken it faithfully, and with entire success. I have not been visited with one of those turns of distress, which before were weekly periodical, since I began to take your valuable medicine. Could I receive the same relief which I have hitherto experienced, on condition of taking it for life, I should cheerfully comply with such condition. Your's, very truly, D. C. LANSING.

ANTI-DYSPEPTIC ELIXER.

ONE of the most agreeable and efficacious Medicines ever discovered for the permanent cure of those chronic states of derangement of the stomach, constituting that miserable disease called Dyspepsia.

The basis of this Elixer is vegetables, and perfectly innocent in its operation; it destroys that sour state of the stomach, the instant it is taken, and stops the morbid secretion, by giving strength to the muscular fibre of that important organ, by which means the peristaltic motion of the intestines is increased, and the costiveness obviated; a new action is given to the system, which puts an end to a train of distressing nervous sensations.

Another form of the disease in which the Elixer is admirably calculated to relieve, is the decline of fever, where the stomach will not bear the ordinary strengthening medicines indicated in such cases, it has the surprising effect of giving vigor, and restoring the natural secretions of the body, without increasing the febrile state. Not the least danger is to be apprehended from exposure to cold, while under the use of this medicine, nor will it interrupt necessary employment of the patient a single hour.

☞A number of cases of cures performed by the Anti-Dyspeptic Elixer in the vicinity of Pittsburgh can be given.

GEO. W. CARPENTER'S
COMPOUND SYRUP OF LIVERWORT,

A SAFE and Valuable Medicine for Coughs, Spitting of Blood, Consumption, and Liver Complaints.

Most of the medicines made use of for the above diseases are of a stimulating nature, composed generally of Resins and Balsams, in alcoholic solutions, which, although sometimes givingt emporary relief, in almost every instance where they are freely used, aggravate the disease, and reduce the strength of the patient.

This article possesses superior advantages over these preparations, its action being of a tonic, invigorating and strengthening nature, thus overcoming the disease by promoting expectoration, and gradually increasing the strength of the patient, and thus, without being attended with any unpleasant effects: it also agrees with the stomach, in a l cases, and is a pleasant medicine to take.

Rights to use the machine in that part of the United States, named above, will be sold by the single county or in larger districts. As it is presumed that no one will purchase without seeing the machine at work, a description of it is deemed unnecessary. Should any person, however, wish to purchase, and find it inconvenient to visit the places where it is in operation, a machine will be furnished, warranted to plane, tongue and groove, and bring to an exact width and thickness, a white pine board of 12 feet long, and of any width from 1 to 14 inches, in one minute and ten seconds, or an oak board of the same dimensions in 2 minutes and 10 seconds. Machines may be seen at work in the cities of New Orleans, Washington, Philadelphia, New York, Boston, and others at the south and east, at Wheeling, Virginia, and at the saw mill of Messrs. Irwin & Herron, in this city.

Persons desiring to purchase will have the certificates of scientific and practical men who have seen it at work, in the different places in which it has been put up, forwarded to them. They give their opinion as to the great value of the invention, state the time they have seen boards dressed by this machine, and describe the quality of the work as compared with that performed by hand labor.

VALUABLE PROPERTY FOR SALE.

THE Subscriber offers for sale the farm on which he lives, in Washington county, on Pigeon creek, one mile south of Williamsport, on the Monongahela river, to which there is a perfectly level road. This farm contains near 400 acres, the greater part of which is first rate land. There is on the premises three small tenements for the accommodation of families. This tract is well timbered, and abounds with stone coal and springs of water, both of the best quality.
